

NOW INTRODUCING Florida Approved Stainless Steel Power Distribution & Controls

NOW INTRODUCING: Milbank now offers our popular Power Distribution and Controls units in a NEMA 3R 316 stainless steel version, engineered for durability in Florida's coastal environments.

Designed for Simplicity

Say goodbye to unsightly strut farms—our streamlined units offer a clean, professional look with no engineering time required for Quick-Ship options.

Time and Cost Savings

Built-in padlockable access means no need for additional fencing—saving time, money, and space while enhancing jobsite security.

Safety and Security Focused

Easily field-modify with standard accessories and enjoy consistent design across every project for faster installs and long-term efficiency.
